

RIGGING & SLINGING

Certification of persons

Work is accomplished with, for and by people. Whether or not quality is achieved in a safe and environmentally sound fashion depends largely on the competencies of those doing the job.

Certification of competence

Managing the human factor is what Certification of Persons by DNV stands for. We are the market leader in development, execution and managing certification schemes ensuring competency. Whether it's about craftsmen in specific branches and industries or professionals in specific organizations, DNV is your Competency Certification partner. All our certification schemes are designed according to the international accreditation standard ISO 17024.

Rigging & Slinging

Preparing work-areas and loads to be hoisted, securing loads in a correct and safe way, using the correct material and communication are of crucial importance in a hoisting operation. A load which is not managed and secured correctly can result in serious harm, disaster, delays, insurance claims or even bankruptcy of a company. The rigger is a very important shackle in the chain. For a successful and troublefree hoisting operation, the competence of riggers is crucial. In the light of the risks and importance of this activity DNV has developed a competence certification scheme for riggers. DNV has appointed examination institutes and/or approved examiners that perform the certification assessments under our supervision.
